

Northwood University Student Complaints

Northwood places high importance on obtaining feedback from students and responding to areas of concern in a timely manner. Complaints are addressed informally and formally. Each campus /program area has a process for collecting, analyzing and addressing formal student complaints. Formal complaints must be in writing. Northwood logs complaints and ensures timely tracking of response(s) and outcomes for each. The university regularly reviews complaints to determine potential systemic issues/themes and identify opportunities for improvement. Northwood communicates the process through a variety of means including student orientation and Student Handbooks. Students with a formal complaint or wishing to learn more about the complaint process should contact the respective Deans at the Michigan Campus, DeVos Graduate School of Management, Adult Degree Program, or International Programs.

Recent amendments to the Higher Education Act of 1965 include changes in regulations for State Authorization that may impact online, distance, and correspondence education providers. In compliance with the language passed in the Higher Education Opportunities Act of 2008, the U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) determined that institutions offering distance education must provide enrolled and prospective students with contact information for filing complaints with its accrediting agency and with the appropriate state agency for handling complaints in the student's state.

Students are encouraged to utilize the institution's internal complaint procedures prior to filing a complaint with the state agency or agencies. The regulations require states to provide the opportunity for students to lodge the following types of complaints:

- Allegations of state consumer protection violations, including, but not limited to fraud and false advertising.
- Allegations that state laws or rules addressing the licensure of postsecondary institutions have been violated.
- Allegations regarding the quality of education or other accreditation requirements.
